This Policy applies to the data processing of surveillance carried out with cameras in the area of the Hotel operated by the Data Controller (address: 1053 Budapest, Királyi Pál utca 12.).

The purpose of the operation of the camera surveillance system is to prevent and prove the commission of unlawful acts, thus realizing the Surveillance and recording carried out with cameras equipped in the area of the Hotel operated by the Data Controller is carried out on the basis of the legitimate interest of the Data Controller pursuant to Article 6 (1) (f) of the GDPR. During the application of the camera surveillance system, personal data may be processed to the extent strictly necessary for the realization of the purpose of data processing. The cameras only record moving images. Sound recordings – together with video recordings – are not recorded with regard to data processing based on legitimate interest.

The cameras are not used for direct observation in addition to recording the recordings. The Data Controller performs recorded surveillance, which means that the recordings are only viewed if an event has occurred in accordance with the purpose of the recording, or if the data subject has submitted an access request to the Data Controller, in which he or she requested the viewing of the recording or the release of a copy of the recording. In the future, the Data Controller will only use the recordings for the purpose of investigating an event internally, or in judicial or official proceedings. In the event of the initiation of an official or judicial proceeding or a request, the Data Controller shall make a copy of the recordings, which shall be forwarded exclusively to the body proceeding in the case.

The primary task of the Data Controller is to determine the scope of the personal data processed, the legal basis and purpose of data processing, the means and method of data processing, as well as to ensure the enforcement of the constitutional principles of data protection and the requirements of data security, and to prevent unauthorized access to personal data, the alteration and unauthorized disclosure or use of data, as well as to ensure protection against deletion, damage and destruction.

The main legal regulations on data processing under this Policy and their abbreviations used in this Policy:

- Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC (General Data Protection Regulation); GDPR)

III. SOURCE AND PROCESSING OF INDIVIDUAL PERSONAL DATA, LEGAL BASIS OF DATA PROCESSING, SCOPE OF DATA PROCESSED, DURATION OF DATA PROCESSING

Name and purpose of data processing	Legal basis for data processing	Personal data processed Circle	Duration of data processing

Results of the balancing of interests test carried out by the Data Controllers:

Legitimate interest exists	The legitimate interest is duly defined, genuine and current, as the data processing is actually necessary for the communication of the Data Controller's activities to the public.
Data processing is necessary	Data processing is necessary for the realization of legitimate interest, since in the absence of such a process, the Data Controller's goal - to ensure the protection of the personal safety and physical integrity of the Hotel's customers/guests and our Hotel employees, as well as the protection of buildings, movable property, equipment, vehicles and the property of persons entering and staying in the monitored area (from burglary, theft or vandalism) - could not be achieved.
Data processing constitutes a proportionate restriction with regard to the data subject	In the course of Data Processing, the interests, fundamental rights and freedoms of the Data Subjects are not violated. Compared to the interests of the Data Controller, the interests of the Data Subject do not enjoy a higher level of protection. With regard to the fact that the Data Subject receives the appropriate information about the data processing concerning him or her at the time of data collection, and that the effects of data processing are fully predictable due to the method of data processing, the measure of proportionality in this respect is shifting towards the permissibility of data processing. The proportionality of the restriction is also increased by the fact that the data controller provides the data subject with comprehensive, clear and comprehensible information at the time of data collection about the scope of the personal data processed, the basis, method and time of data processing, and the data subject's rights related to data processing.

With regard to the provisions of Article 21 of the GDPR, the Data Controller clearly and separately from any other information expressly draws the attention of the Data Subject to the fact that each Data Subject has the right to object at any time to the processing of his or her personal data based on Article 6(1)(f) of the GDPR for the purposes of data processing specified in this Policy, on grounds relating to his or her particular situation.

In this case, the Data Controller may no longer process the personal data, unless the Data Controller proves that the data processing is justified by compelling legitimate grounds that take precedence over the interests, rights and freedoms of the Data Subject, or that are related to the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.

IV. THE FACT OF AUTOMATED DECISION-MAKING, including profiling, as well as, at least in these cases, comprehensible information about the logic used and the significance of such processing and the expected consequences for the data subject:

No automated decision-making or profiling takes place during the processing of personal data detailed in this Privacy Policy.

V. DATA SECURITY MEASURES

The Data Controller undertakes to ensure the security of the personal data it processes. Taking into account the state of science and technology and the costs of implementation, as well as the nature, scope, circumstances and purposes of the processing, as well as the risks to the rights and freedoms of natural persons of varying probability and severity, it shall take the technical and organisational measures and establish the procedural rules to ensure that the data recorded, stored or processed are protected, or prevent their destruction, unauthorized use and unauthorized alteration.

The Data Controller also undertakes to call upon all third parties to whom the data are forwarded or transferred on any legal basis to comply with the requirement of data security.

The Data Controller shall guarantee a level of data security appropriate to the degree of risk, including, inter alia, where applicable:

- pseudonymization and encryption of personal data,
- ensuring the continued confidentiality, integrity, availability and resilience of the systems and services used to process personal data (operational and development security, intrusion protection and detection, prevention of unauthorised access),
- in the event of a physical or technical incident, the ability to restore access to and availability of personal data in a timely manner (prevention of data leakage; vulnerability and incident management);
- a procedure for regularly testing, assessing and evaluating the effectiveness of the technical and organizational measures taken to guarantee the security of data processing (maintaining business continuity, protecting against malicious codes, securely storing, transmitting and processing data, security training of our employees).

When determining the appropriate level of security, the risks arising from the processing of personal data shall be expressly taken into account, in particular from the accidental or unlawful destruction, loss, alteration, unauthorised disclosure of, or access to, personal data transmitted, stored or otherwise processed.

The Data Subject's data is stored on the protected internal servers of the Data Controller, which is protected by the highest IT security standards. Remote access is only possible for a limited number of authorized persons, only through a virtual private network, after authentication. All operations performed by the User and the Service Provider related to data processing involving modifications will be logged. The data will not be copied to any other physical medium.

The Data Controller operates the IT tools used for the processing of the recorded personal data as follows:

- To ensure the protection of physical devices that contain data relating to the Data Controller.
- To ensure that only approved and authorized Users have access to the data used by the Data Controller.
- To ensure that only persons authorised to use the systems have access to the Data Controller's data.
- To ensure that the Data Controller's data cannot be transmitted, read, modified or deleted by an unauthorised person during data transmission or storage. The managed data shall only be accessed by the Managing Director acting on behalf of the Data Controller and the Hotel Director, in such a way that they may not disclose them to persons who are not entitled to access the data.

- To ensure that the Data Controller's data is protected from accidental destruction or loss, and in the event of events that trigger these consequences, they have timely access to and restore the Data Controller's data.
- To ensure that the Data Controller's data is processed separately from the data of other customers. The Data Controller classifies and manages personal data as confidential data. In order to protect the data files electronically managed in the various registers, the Data Controller shall ensure that the data stored in the registers – with the exceptions specified by law – cannot be directly linked and assigned to the Data Subject.
- In order to ensure the security of IT systems, the Data Controller protects the IT systems with a firewall, and uses antivirus and anti-virus software to prevent external and internal data losses. The Data Controller has also ensured that incoming and outgoing communication in any form is properly controlled in order to prevent abuse.
